Description

Abix is a software development company, founded in 2009 in Skopje, Macedonia, that offers software development services, including mobile and web apps and sites, tools, to full enterprise solutions. Having separate teams for technologies used specializing in their own domains and software developers with years of experience, always on the cutting edge on technologies and innovations in the industry, Abix can guarantee a fast turnaround, quality code and enthusiastic engineers who are always looking for a way to add more value to the product they're developing. In 2012 our CEO was awarded the Entrepreneur of the Year recognizing Abix's success and growth. Starting from 2013, Abix has been awarded the ExcellentSME accolade consecutively each year recognizing Abix as a highly trusted partner in the development of software products. In 2014 Abix was awarded the Mobile Excellence of ICT award from MASIT, a national ICT Chamber of commerce for a marketing platform developed by us called Promotion In Motion, consisting of web solution for managing and mobile apps for serving promotions.
